Our holistic approach focuses on restoring inner balance by transmitting a selfhealing message to the body's various biological mechanisms. The medical programs offered at the Le Mirador Health Centre are integrative, combining traditional western medicine and alternative methodologies, based on latest scientific research and experimental medicine. It is a holistic approach to optimize and rebalance your health on various levels, by respecting your individuality. Before each initial program, a medical check-up is provided. This includes a rigorous physical examination, followed by in-depth laboratory tests and diagnostics. Based on this data, we will be capable to adapt selected programs to personal requirements and advise on different specialties. Through the process of supporting the body's inherent regulatory forces, the body will return to a healthy - balanced state called homeostasis. With the methods and applications used in our center, we initiate complete body detoxification, tissue purification and immune system reload to restore natural and unique mechanisms of self-healing.

Our History

In 1904 under survey of architect J.-H. Collombet Mon Repos clinic was built. He wanted the building to give an impression of welcoming palace, more than just a medical establishment. It was specialized in neurodegenerative and gastrointestinal diseases.

The Mon Repos clinic was very well known for its innovative approach and results obtained. 30th of XX century was the clinic's most prosperous period. Ravel and Dutilleux, French composers, created a number of excerpts from their works during their stay here.

The Second World War brought a lot of changes. Many doctors and other medical professionals were obliged to leave the centre. Due to this unfortunate circumstance the Mon Repos Clinic ceased its activity.

In 1952 Swiss entrepreneur Andre Kurz transformed the old clinic building to "The Mon-Repos Hotel" renovating a large part of the building and then employing once again medical practitioners.

In 1970 American Entrepreneur Joseph Segel and his wife transformed Mon-Repos hotel to "Le Mirador Resort". Since then the establishment has been highly recognized and renowned all over the world.

The Emperor and the Empress of Japan stayed here in 1971 during their official visit to Switzerland.

Harvard Business School selected the resort as its European Center for selected courses and Abell, Gabarro, Hayes, Jack Kennedy, Milton Brown, Pr. Larreché made their number of lectures within these walls.

In 1974 Mr Segel decided to integrate a wellness aspect into the clinic by creating a new aisle with treatment rooms and swimming pool; later this was named a SPA in the hotel industry. This aspect of the hotel being of a great innovation for this era in Europe.

In 1998 Le Mirador was the first non-smoking hotel in Europe. He developed accompanied stop-tobacco detoxification cures. Unfortunately, hotel guests didn't welcome this idea, even though many were looking for pure alpine air. Mr Segel decided to abandon this project; he was seemingly too ahead of his time!

In 1999 due to the boom in Health and Wellness, the center focused on developing revitalization and regeneration treatments using the latest innovations in anti-ageing and disease prevention programmes.

In 2018 the Le Mirador Health Centre was extended, hence, offering a numerous spectrum of medical services.

Today the Le Mirador Health Centre offers a vast number of specialties from Sport injuries medicine, Age, Stress and Weight management programmes to specialist consultations of Cardiologist, Gynecologist, Endocrinologist and Dermatologist.

The array of treatments given reflects the spectacular panoramic setting between the Lake Geneva below and the mountains around, embedded in a dab of cotton cloud.

«I contemplated the lake, the waters were placid, all around was calm and the snowy mountains... the calm and heavenly scene restored me, and I continued my journey»

– Mary Shelley
